Oracle's Primavera Consulting offers a full complement of project management and technical experts committed to meeting your upgrade requirements. We understand that determining the service needs of your organization can be overwhelming. That's why we help simplify the process with the Upgrade Assistance Package, a variable-length program designed to help customers understand the upgrade process, provide installation assistance, assess hardware and software upgrade needs, and evaluate new features of Primavera.

Primavera Consultants Provide Technical and Business Guidance

Structured assessments, as well as planning in advance of an upgrade, provides important input to support the eventual success of the upgrade. The Oracle Upgrade Assistance package leads your company through a set of well-designed and integrated discovery and evaluation processes to unlock additional value from your existing Primavera solutions. It provides your company with a well-defined approach to guide the upcoming upgrade project.

Most companies view upgrades as part of a regular "fitness plan" that provides continuous momentum and agility. Upgrades can also help organizations leverage enhanced product functionalities, lowering the cost and risk of expensive customizations. Embedded best practices and enhanced performance and scalability are additional advantages to upgrading to the latest release of software.

With more experience than anyone in the industry, and through close coordination with product development, Oracle's Primavera Consulting is your safest choice in planning and executing your upgrades. As your single source of accountability, Primavera Consulting has the greatest incentive to accelerate upgrade time-to- value.
